JEFF IN A WALK SAYS HIS TRAINER

Big Fellow Needn't Come Back, Because He Never "Went" and Is Now in His Prime

BOAT MAY GO THE LIMIT

If No Decision Is Possible in 45 Rounds, Then it May Be a Finish Fight

Here are the latest measurements of Jeffries and Johnson: Jeffries—Height, 6 feet 1/4 inch; chest (normal), 46 inches; chest (expanded), 51 inches; reach, 75 inches; waist, 35 1/2 inches; neck, 18 1/2 inches; forearm, 13 1/4 inches; biceps, 16 1/2 inches; thigh, 25 inches; calf, 16 1/2 inches; age, 35. Johnson—Height, 6 feet 1/4 inch; chest (normal), 37 inches; chest (expanded), 42 1/2 inches; reach, 72 inches; waist, 30 inches; neck, 17 1/2 inches; forearm, 14 1/2 inches; biceps, 16 inches; thigh, 23 inches; calf, 32 inches; age, 32.

Abe Attell, fighter—There is nothing to it but Jeffries. John L. Sullivan, fighter, actor and reporter—It will be a great fight. Johnson grows in public opinion each day. Tommy Burns, fighter—Jeffries will win inside of twenty rounds. I'd fight Johnson any day but you couldn't drag me into the ring in front of Jim Jeffries.

Sam Langford, negro fighter—Jeffries will win. I'm sorry to go to fight. I wanted to lick Johnson, but when Mr. Jeffries gets through with him, there'll be nothing for me to take a punch at.

Bob Fitzsimmons, fighter—Jeffries will hit that nigger once and Johnson will turn white. Why, Jeff can kill him. James J. Corbett, actor and fighter—It will be Jeffries in a walk.

Al Kaufman, fighter—Johnson will win. Jeff has shot his bolt. If Jeff forces the fight, Johnson will win all the quicker.

Billy Muldoon, noted trainer—I like Jeff because he is husky. The fight will go the limit, with Johnson playing the waiting game.

Tom Flanagan—I look for Johnson to win inside of twenty rounds. Robert Edgren, noted sport writer—Jeffries will win; there will be no other ending.

T. A. Dorgan (Tad), sporting writer—It's going to be the peach of a scrap, take it from me.

Tex Rickard—The scrap will be on the level. Big Tim Sullivan, stakeholder—If the fight isn't on the level you'll see me coming through the ropes with a rush. Gov. Dickerson of Nevada—I am convinced the fight will be absolutely honest.

Roger Cornell, trainer—Jeffries will win inside of twenty rounds. He will carry the fight to the negro all the time. Sam Fitzpatrick, Johnson's former manager—If a little fellow like Tommy Burns can send Johnson to a hospital, what will Jeffries do to him?

Alfred Henry Lewis, author—It will be as though one were armed with a sword of steel against the other's sword of lead. Jeffries, by the sheerest dint of temper and trenchant bitterness, should split his foe wide open like a mackerel.

Jack London, author—It is perhaps the fight of fights, the crowning fight of the whole fight that will ever be held. Johnson, the fighting boxer, will go up against Jeffries, the boxing fighter. Both are cool, both are experienced, both are terrible. It will not be a short fight.

Max Baithaser, United Press representative at Reno—In my opinion Jeffries will win within 25 rounds. I base this prediction upon the wonderful form into which he has worked himself. For today I believe he is as good if not better than when he fought Corbett seven years ago.

It is unnecessary to touch upon his gameness. I am hearing in mind in making this expression that in Johnson he meets the most dangerous man of his career. If Johnson succeeds in beating Jeffries he must be hailed as the most remarkable pugilist of all time.

(By Roger Cornell, Chief Trainer for Jeffries.)

JEFFRIES' TRAINING CAMP. Written especially for the United Press. Reno, Nev., July 2.—Contrary to the popular belief there is nothing to it but Jeffries.

PLEIN JAILED FOR PASSING ORANGES

True Story of why Victim of J. S. Disaster was Imprisoned to Be Told, it Is Alleged

MATE IN A NEAR-RIOT

Feeling Intense Over the Plein Death; Klomsten Said to Have Fled for Safety

LANSING, Iowa, July 2.—(Special.)—That John Plein, the J. S. victim, was imprisoned in the hold that became his death chamber merely because he was interfering with the sale of refreshments on the boat, is the charge that is made by people close to the lawyer for Plein's estate. James Conway, the attorney in the case, is said to have found witnesses who will swear that Plein was creating no disturbance at the time of his arrest. The story today is that Plein came aboard the boat with a large sack of oranges purchased at John C. Burns Fruit house, and that in the mellowness of good humor following his "sightseeing" in La Crosse, he was passing them around promiscuously. It is alleged that he was not offensive, but was merely trying to make a "good fellow" of himself.

Then, it is claimed, the man who has charge of the sale of refreshments on the J. S. called Policeman John Page and told him that Plein was injuring the sale of his wares, whereupon, say these witnesses, Policeman Page arrested Plein and put him in the hold. The witnesses say that Plein offered no resistance, but they do not charge that Page was in any way brutal in making the arrest.

Feeling in Lansing and Waukon is intense over the Plein incident. Citizens here claim that the officials of the boat from the outset deliberately falsified in order to clear themselves of blame for the man's death. They believe that Plein was imprisoned without just cause; that when the fire alarm was sounded the officers realized that he must already be dead either from the smoke or the flames, that to attempt his rescue would be to immediately imperil the lives of all the other passengers, and that therefore the hatches were not opened. People here would not feel so embittered, it is said, had the officials frankly stated the truth, defending themselves upon the grounds that the safety of the other passengers demanded the abandonment of Plein to his fate, to rescue him from which would have been impossible, and might have cost the lives of all the other passengers.

What aggravated the feeling more than anything else was deliberate efforts said to have been made by Mate Klomsten, who when divers were at work, occupied a houseboat adjacent to the wreck, to sidetrack the search. People who accompanied the divers declare that Klomsten repeatedly attempted to discourage the divers, asserting that Plein had been released and that he had seen him leave the hold. It is also said that their examination to the right side of the steamer, by saying that it was on that side that Plein had been left, and that have been an eye witness to the arrest of Plein, contradicted this statement, the divers shortly found the dead man's body on the left side of the boat.

HIGH WIND WRECKS TWO AEROPLANES

WOLVERHAMPTON, England, July 2.—While flying in a high wind here today, Aviator Cecil Grace's machine was driven against the railing of the aerodrome and was wrecked. Grace was slightly injured. The force of the collision shattered the heavy railing.

Another accident resulted from the high wind when J. Radley's machine overturned at a height of forty feet and crashed to the ground. Radley was badly bruised. The wind became so strong that Graham White, who contested with Paulham in the London-Manchester flight, was the only one of the sixteen contestants who dared to continue flying. His bravery was rewarded by his winning the premier prize of $5,000.

ANOTHER BANKER IN "GONE WRONG" CLUB

BOSTON, Mass., July 2.—Charged with using the funds of the National Bank of Rockport, Mass., to play the stock market, Geo. W. Tufts, 21, its cashier, is in jail here, accused of being a member of the "wrong" which within the last "gone wrong" which within the last year has numbered eight prominent New England bank officials.

The shortage will not exceed $20,000.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH

IF BLACK WINS RIOTS MAY COME

Southerners Uneasy Over New Attitude Adopted by Ignorant Darkies of the South

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—In sections of the south where the race question is a vital issue and in many cities along the "borderland" the Jeffries-Johnson fight has taken on an aspect of the utmost seriousness and apprehension is felt today as to the result if the negro wins.

Negroes throughout the south are intensely interested in the fight and eagerly grasp such phrases from the newspapers as the "struggle for the supremacy of the race," etc. All through the events leading up to the fight so much stress has been laid upon the fact that Jeffries only agreed to fight on account of his desire to defend his color, that many ignorant negroes have begun to look upon the fight as a contest which actually will determine their position in the social scale.

Public officials and a few remaining congressmen who came from the south today confirmed the reports of anxiety. For obvious reasons they declined to be quoted, but talked freely of the danger of the negroes having their heads turned by a victory for Johnson.

"Why, some of these young negroes now are so proud that it is hard to get along with them," said one southerner, "but if Jeffries should be beaten by Johnson, they will be crowding white women off the sidewalks and there are plenty of towns where such an action as that would cause deplorable trouble."

"It's hard for me to form an opinion," said a southern representative. "I think that a white man who would deliberately get into a ring to fight a negro deserves to be beaten to death. If Jeffries is defeated most southerners will say he got what was coming to him. On the other hand they will deeply regret that the negroes should be stirred up to an absurd and dangerous exultation and believe that the supremacy of the black over the white has been established."

Among the negro office holders in this city, Johnson is receiving support though so far but little betting has been recorded. Several department officials said today that they have noticed the effect upon the negro clerks in the service of the government. While there is a class of negro office holders who maintain a dignity far above such lowly sport as prize fighting, the great majority of them are intensely interested to a point of nervous excitement. They read every obtainable line about the two fighters.

BILLINGS BANK CLOSED

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—The first National Bank of Billings, Mont., was closed today by direction of the comptroller of the currency as insolvent.

WOULD BET FARM ON JOHNSON

MONTREAL, July 2.—T. Lovett, M. D., a well known local physician, this morning published an offer to bet a 300 acre farm valued at $16,000 at 2 to 1 that Johnson will knock out Jeffries in ten rounds.

BETTING IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 2.—Several thousand dollars was bet here today at 10 to 7 on the Jeffries-Johnson fight the white man ruling favorite.

TRIBUNE SERVED BY LEASED WIRE

United Press will Get the Fight News to This Paper in Record Time Next Monday

NEW YORK, July 2.—Editors: A false report has been circulated that other news agencies will have the only direct leased wire to the ringside at Reno on July Fourth. The United Press will have two leased wires located in the first row of seats at the ringside and will handle Max Baithaser's detailed story of the fight over these wires directly from the ringside as announced previously.

R. W. HOWARD, General News Manager, the United Press Association.

The leased wire of the United Press runs directly into the editorial offices of The La Crosse Tribune, Tribune building, Fifth and Jay streets, and the high speed coded reports will be taken directly from the wire onto a typewriter by The Tribune's regular leased wire operator, George Lienlokken, the fastest man in the telegraphic service in La Crosse. The Tribune, according to previous announcement made through the United Press bulletins, will have reports of the fight thirty seconds after the blows land, and this will absolutely be the first fight news to reach La Crosse. A staff of United Press correspondents will be at the ringside and dictate the fight as it progresses, to the fastest telegraphers procurable, sitting at the telegraph keys ready to tick off the battle by rounds to the clerks of the United Press, of which The Tribune is one.

DELIVERS ADDRESS ON BOARD BOAT

ON BOARD STEAMSHIP JAMESTOWN, off Atlantic coast, July 2.—Night riding in Kentucky, inequities of trusts in general and of the tobacco trust in particular, tendency of congress to handle questions from a partisan viewpoint and the outlook for the several grades of tobacco were some of the phrases of the address of President T. M. Carrington of the tobacco association of the United States delivered before members of the association today aboard the Old Dominion liner which left Norfolk for New York with a large quota of tobacco men aboard.

YOUNG FARMER MYSTERIOUSLY SHOT

BEACH, Ill., July 2.—Mystery surrounds the shooting of Calvin McCartney, who is dying today at Waukegan hospital. McCartney was found lying in his house here by his parents who had come to spend the holidays with him. He was fatally wounded and a revolver lay near him. The youth lived alone here on a farm purchased for him by his father, J. Calvin McCartney, a wealthy Chicago real estate dealer. He is supposed to have shot himself.

SOUTHERN MOB IS SEEKING BLACKS

Race Riot Yesterday in Mississippi Is Resumed and Sheriff Is Swearing in Deputies

MENDENHALL, Miss., July 2.—Eight men, six negroes and two white men, have been killed in the race riots about Mendenhall marked yesterday by the lynching of a negro named Skiffer and the beating of two other negroes by a mob of whites who claimed Skiffer had shielded Jim Brady, a negro accused of killing Luther Buckley, a white man. Skiffer was shot to death.

The trouble has developed into a regular warfare today with the whites pursuing a gang of negroes, headed by Brady, through the swamps. The trouble has now lasted for four days. On Thursday a white man, whose name has not been learned, was shot from ambush while searching for Brady. A second white man is said to have met the same fate.

The pursuit continued unabated today and other killings are expected.

LA FOLLETTE CANCELS CHETEK SPEECH

MADISON, Wis., July 2.—Special.—It is learned today that Senator La Follette today probably is finishing his trip from Buffalo home via the great lakes, having embarked at the earnest solicitation of his children on Tuesday or Wednesday. His headquarters here remain silent as to his whereabouts, and it is said he probably will not be home until after the Fourth. It is rumored also he may meet political advisors in Chicago over the holidays. It is denied here that La Follette's physical condition is at all serious, but it is said he felt the lake trip would do him good.

His private secretary, A. O. Barton, arrived in Madison today and said he knew nothing of his chief's whereabouts. La Follette is scheduled for a speech at Chetek today but is cancelled.

BALLINGER LIKELY TO QUIT SOON

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Rumors of the resignation of Secretary Ballinger were revived here today following the political development in which President Taft, Hughes and Roosevelt have played such prominent parts.

The expectation that Roosevelt will support Gifford Pinchot and the report that he told Taft that he would do so, has aroused intense interest here.

It is said that Roosevelt practically informed Taft that he could not support the administration with Ballinger in it, and that as a result Ballinger is apt to return to his law practice in Seattle after he is "acquitted" in September by the verdict of the congressional committee which investigated the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

LINGENFELTER WON'T RETIRE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—Reports that C. H. Lingenfelter, the United States attorney for Idaho, was to retire were effectively set at rest by the statement of the department of justice that Lingenfelter had desired to retire to private practice, but has agreed to continue in his present position.

ROOSEVELT MEETS BIG INSURGENTS

Three Leaders of Movement Confer with the Former President Today

EARLY ANNOUNCEMENT LIKELY

Wiseacres Believe Teddy will Endorse Movement to Help Candidates in the Middle West

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 2.—The three biggest men in Kansas from the standpoint of insurgency were closeted with Col. Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill today.

The trio which journeyed here to participate in the deliberations of "insurgency" were United States Senator J. L. Bristow, Congressman E. H. Madison and Victor Murdock. They came down on the noon train and were driven at once to the mansion on the hill overlooking the bay and the sound, where they had luncheon with the colonel.

That their presence was considered important even by Col. Roosevelt was indicated by his manner in announcing to the newspaper correspondents they were coming. Heretofore when guests have been expected Col. Roosevelt has declined to meet the newspaper men before their arrival and has positively declined to discuss the nature of their mission.

The newspaper men were met by the colonel and he at once admitted that the three Kansans were coming. He stated that he did not want their visit announced until they had actually arrived, because there might be some slip if they might be delayed enroute.

"But after they have reached here you may make their names public," declared the former president significantly, "and after we have had an opportunity to hold a conference I will be glad to talk to you."

The three insurgents chosen to meet with Col. Roosevelt being the leaders in that movement, it was declared by political wiseacres that today's conference was sure to have far reaching consequences. It was reported that they pressed upon the colonel that he make a public statement of his views early. By doing this he would aid the cause of the insurgents, as in many districts of the middle west the announcement that Roosevelt favors progressive movement would result in the turning down of reactionary candidates.

WATTERSON'S SON VIOLENTLY INSANE

NEW YORK, July 2.—Attorneys representing Col. Henry Watterson went to Saugerties, N. Y., today to look out for the interests of the Kentucky's editor's eldest son, who is in jail there violently insane. Ewing Watterson, who has been threatened with mental collapse for a number of years and has been living on a farm near Saugerties, came into town yesterday, shot and mortally wounded Michael J. Martin, a hotel proprietor, fired shots at a number of other persons and finally had to be roughly handled before he could be placed under arrest.

"Mrs. Watterson and I have been fearful that Ewing would get into trouble for some time," said the colonel today. "It is one of those sad cases of religious melancholia. His symptoms were extreme sensitiveness and a disposition to imagine himself offended or insulted for no cause."

According to dispatches from Saugerties today Martin's condition is very critical and Watterson will be held without bail pending the outcome of his victim's wounds.

VICTIM MAY RECOVER

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 2.—Ewing Watterson was brought here today and placed in the county jail. He will be given an examination on Monday. Martin is in the local hospital and while his condition is critical there is a possibility that he will recover.

EXPECT STRIKE CRISIS TODAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—Asserting that it will cost the railroads of the south ten times more to meet a strike than to grant their demands, representatives of the southeastern roads' employees declared that they expected the crisis this afternoon.

They claimed that the cessation of work by fifty thousand men would immediately follow a strike. This may be called by them at any time. President Finley of the Southern railway said today that he did not consider mediation the last step in the controversy and he expected arbitration would follow if the present conference fail.

OVERDUE STEAMER ARRIVES

BOMBAY, July 2.—The Austrian Lloyd steamer Trieste, ten days overdue, arrived here today from Trieste under sail with her propeller broken. The Trieste carried 34 passengers and a crew of 55 and for the past three days boats had been searching for her.

1911 CHAUTAUQUA ALREADY IS SURE

Great Success of Present Undertaking Insures Another Big Festival Here

SPLENDID PROGRAMS GIVEN

"The Story Beautiful" Is One of the Intellectual Treats Offered La Crosse

There is every indication that La Crosse will again have the Chautauqua next year. Supt. Brackett has been doing some preliminary skirmishing, and last evening presented the matter to the large audience assembled in the tent. Cards were passed by the ushers, by which people were enabled to express their wishes in regard to the number of tickets for which they would sign, and opportunity will again be given today and this evening for the guaranteeing of season tickets for next year.

Won't Let It Pass. The people of La Crosse certainly do not want to let the Chautauqua go past them next year, as it brings a feast of musical and literary programs to their very doors, under ideal conditions and at the nominal fee of $1.50 for the week. Only 1,000 season tickets at $1.50 have to be guaranteed, and with the support of the churches and the different women's clubs of the city, this would be an easy matter. The next few days will tell the story, and there probably will be no indecision in settling for next year this all important matter.

Big Audience Fills Tent. Another capacity audience filled the big Chautauqua tent last evening to hear the second musical program of Ruthven McDonald, the Canadian baritone, and the illustrated lecture by Father MacCorrey, "The Story Beautiful."

There was much pleasure in listening to Mr. McDonald, for he has a beautiful voice and he uses it well, but there certainly was an equal amount of disappointment at the selections which he presented to his La Crosse audiences. With his dramatic ability and his magnificent baritone, Mr. McDonald could surely have given us some of the best things in music. Mr. McDonald interprets well, and several of his encores were among his best numbers.

"The Story Beautiful" as told by Father MacCorrey, with stereopticon views, was an inspiration, and it (Continued on Page Six)

FIGHT PICTURES AT MAJESTIC

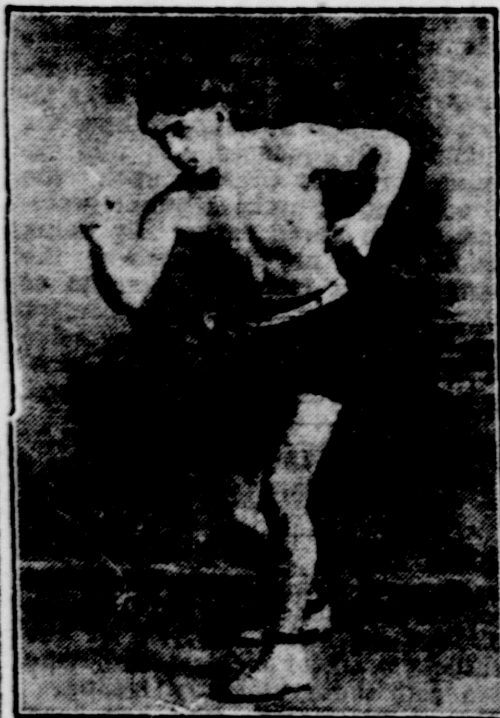

Fans are anxious to see how Wolgast downed Durable Dane. Ad Wolgast has won a warm place in the hearts of the devotees of the boxing game, by his hard earned victory over Battling Nelson. When the bell rang calling the men to the center for first round, Wolgast was a rank outsider, as far as the bet-greater fighter than he has ever been shown in victory. Another feature of the pictures is the fact that the varying emotions of the spectators is shown as the tide of battle changes. The efforts of both men are equally well received.

About 18,000 people witnessed the battle. The pictures will be at the Majestic theater Monday. The results of the Jeffries-Johnson battle will be announced from the stage. Tomorrow the last vaudeville pro-ting men were concerned. To the wise ones, he had no more chance than a lame fox in a hunt. Those who bet on him were labeled as "lobsters." This was one time that it was better to be a lobster than a wise guy.

The pictures of the fight at the Majestic Monday are the very best ever taken and show all the movements of the men. In but one round did it look squally for the little German, the twenty-second. Nothing but the good ring generalship of the lad from Milwaukee saved him from defeat in this round. He had the battle well in hand after the twenty-fifth round, but never took an unnecessary chance. His carelessness in the twenty-second came near to bringing about his undoing and spoiling the chance he had waited so long to get at winning the championship.

Nelson stands out in every round as a great fighter. Even with defeat staring him in the face he never ceases in his attack. It has been remarked by the press where the pictures have been shown that these pictures show Nelson, in defeat, as a gram of the season will be rendered. This will be your last opportunity to see the excellent bill which is being offered this week, including Deas, Reed and Deas, the Riva Larsen troupe and several other excellent acts. Sunday evening the theater will be open for vaudeville for the last time this season after which it will remain closed for six weeks. Don't forget to see the Nelson-Wolgast fight pictures. They have been the sensation of the continent.

ELIZABETH BRACE WEDDED AT TOMAH

TOMAH, Wis., July 2.—Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic church, Miss Elizabeth Brace was united in marriage with Mr. Peter W. Krier of Antigo, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Louis Wurst.

The church was beautifully decorated with green and white dahlias and roses.

While the organist played Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bridal procession passed slowly up the aisle and took their places at the altar. The service was musical throughout, with vocal as well as instrumental music.

The bride was handsomely attired in white messaline, trimmed with old point lace. She wore a long veil with a wreath of lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Irma Hessel of Antigo, wore a gown of pink chiffon over white silk, and carried a large bouquet of pink and white sweet peas.

Two little flower girls, Katharine McCaul, a cousin of the bride, and Carol Goodyear, daintily dressed in lingerie frocks, carried huge baskets of beautiful pink and white roses. The best man was Mr. Lyman Steffen of Antigo. The following acted as ushers: Parish Lewis, Antigo; William Quigley, Antigo; Frederick Barrows, Jr., Tomah; Louis Barnes, Tomah.

After the service the bridal party marched out to the strains of "Lohengrin," led by the two little flower girls, who scattered rose petals before them.

A reception followed the church ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Barrows. About a hundred and fifty guests were present.

The dining room was artistically decorated in pink and white, with bridal roses, smilax and ferns. The other rooms were pretty in green and white. The lawn was brilliantly lighted and the Tomah band, of which Mr. Barrows, Jr., is director, played there all the evening.

Mrs. W. W. Warren, Mrs. Gray Graham, Mrs. W. R. McCaul, Mrs. Frank Hart, Mrs. Ella Goodyear, Mrs. Fred Barrows, Jr., and Mrs. Clara Wells assisted at the reception.

The young couple left on the 11 o'clock train for a short wedding journey. After September 1 they will receive friends at their new home in Antigo.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hambrecht of Grand Rapids, and is very well known in

A SERIOUS "PLUG HAT"

We recall how, when the weather was enervating and the fishing was fine, Charles K. Lush, sometime wily editor of The Chronicle, used to appear in the composing room with three typewritten lines and a column of "reprint," duly credited, by the way. Mr. Lush called it "plug hat" editorial, and the foregoing is half by way of apology for numerous "plug hats" that have recently passed current in The Tribune, and partly by way of whatever extenuation there may be found in the fact that other and greater philosophers have had the daring to shirk magnificently when the ripeness of summer and the lure of the bass make timely suggestion.

Today we propose to "plug hat" the railroad bill, and we present to this end the following editorial clipped from some eastern paper the name of which we do not recall:

"For hauling freight from the east to the Pacific coast railroads have charged less than for hauling it to points two or three hundred miles east of the coast. The rule has been to make the rate for the shorter haul the same as that for the longer, plus the local rate from the coast back to the interior town. In explaining this rule the roads have stated that the through rate, being governed by water competition, often yielded them little or no profit. Naturally, therefore, they had to get even by charging decidedly more proportionately for the haul to points where there was no water competition. Thus, in a measure, the inland towns have been paying the freight bills of the coast towns. This practice is sanctioned by the Interstate Commerce Law, which says that the rate for a shorter haul shall not be greater than that for a longer 'under substantially similar circumstances and conditions'—water competition, of course, creating a substantially different condition.

"The administration's railroad bill, as it comes from the committee, proposes to strike out this qualifying provision of the long-and-short-haul clause, and thus to prohibit a greater charge for a shorter haul under any circumstances. This is the really radical feature of the bill, and the one, probably, to which the railroads seriously object. Of course they object to other features. But giving the Interstate Commerce Commission power to investigate and amend rates of its own initiative, instead of only upon the formal complaint of some shipper as at present, seems hardly important. There is never likely to be any dearth of shippers to file a formal complaint in case of a questionable rate, and so bring it within the commission's jurisdiction. "No doubt the gross inequalities of freight rates as between towns and commodities will have to be remedied some time. Perhaps this is as good a time as any to begin."

The foregoing makes plain the one simple fact upon which was based the important "long and short haul clause." It is designed to put a stop to a specific policy which has for years amounted to monstrous injustice.

Our contemporary regards this as the most important clause in the bill, and to intermediate cities on transcontinental lines it probably is. But of more general importance, because it is fundamental, was the defeated La Follette amendment authorizing the physical valuation of railroads. It will be noted that the above authority mentions "correction of freight rates." There is not now any basis upon which to establish just rates. There is no way of knowing actual investment and figuring therefrom fair profits. The La Follette amendment would have furnished such a basis. The "long and short haul clause" met with opposition from the railroads, but the eastern exchange is in error in assuming that their hostility to it was greater than to any other part of the measure. The interstate commission had declared for physical valuation; the president had declared for it. Once upon a time Theodore Roosevelt had said it was essential. But upon that thing the railroads centered their fight. They went to the congressional "leaders," and to the president, and they got it killed, BECAUSE IT MEANT THE BEGINNING OF HONEST RAILROAD CHARGES AND THE END OF COLOSSAL GRAFT BY WHICH THEY BENEFITTED.

In the following expression of opinion about weather conditions, furnished The Tribune by a prominent citizen, the comment is published in full, with the exception of that portion the language of which was unfit to print:

Roosevelt and Taft, two old friends, met and shook hands and slapped each other on the back. The incident throws no light upon the question of the stand that will eventually be taken by Roosevelt in relation to the republican factional fight.

First reports from the front give a casualty list of one death and several injured in the annual battle of common sense against folly and firecrackers.

There may be some slight gratification in the reflection that the weather man cannot escape his own weather.

ALLEGED HOLD-UP MEN HAVE HEARING

John Welch, William Gray and Thomas Demson, the three men charged with holding up and robbing James Wilson in front of Ole Brown's saloon on the north side Wednesday night, were given a preliminary hearing before Judge Brindley Friday, after pleading not guilty. Wilson claims that two of the men held him, while the third went through his pockets, stealing sixty cents.

ST. PAUL PAYMASTER SUED FOR DIVORCE

CHICAGO, July 2.—Elizabeth May Davis has filed suit for divorce from Charles Warren Davis of Milwaukee, assistant paymaster of the C. & M. & St. P. railroad. Mrs. Davis charges that her husband spent most of his time at clubs and that once he struck her.

A girl has to be in love about fourteen times before she can believe she ever felt like that before.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

A Presence
The best mahogany is scratched;
There's mud upon the polished floor;
The storm and sun beat in Unlatched
And swinging wide stands every door.
Each hour is luncheon time, it seems,
And hunger pauses not for grace.
Farewell to idleness and dreams!
There is a boy about the place.

The pages of a favorite book
Are marked with thumb prints here and there.
The house dog wears a puzzled
look.
Yet welcomes mischief in the air.
Paint brush and nails and hammer play
Odd pranks which years cannot efface.
Adieu, oh lazy, loitering day!
There is a boy about the place.

But when o'erhead the starry train
In wondrous pageantry is shown,
Our heartbeats echo back again
The sweet affections of his own.
The paths which far beyond us range
Are his to tread with youthful pace,
And night seems solemn, still and strange.
There is a boy about the place.

And Both Were on Time Too
"What member of the class can

The Absent-Minded Scotchman
The Scotchman could not find his ticket. On the conductor's second round it was still missing. "What's that in your mouth?" he asked.
Sure enough, there was the missing ticket. The conductor, punched it and went his way. "Ah, well," said Sandy, in reply to his fellow passengers' banter, "I'm nae sae absent-minded as ye wad think. You was a vera auld ticket and I was just sucken off the date."—Success

Apply Within Old Lady—Well, my boy, and what do you want?
Boy—I've called for the reward of five shillins' wot you offered for the return of your canary.
Old Lady—But that is a cat you

Boy—Yes, I know, mum, but the tings!—The Bystander.

Where She Found Comfort
At a prayer meeting held in the backwoods of Rhode Island, testimonies were requested, and a very old woman tottered to her feet.
"I want ter tell this blessed company," her voice quavered, "that I have rheumatiz in my back, and rheumatiz in my shoulders, and rheu-matiz in my legs, and rheumatiz in my arms, but I hev ben upheld and comforted by the beautiful Bible
verse, 'Gird and bear it.'"—Lippin-

A Pertinent Question
Suffragist—Why, look at the ham pering clothes we women must wear.

I tell you, my friends, woman's dress
is the insignia of serfdom.
Mere man (butting in)—One question, please. Then how is it that the insignia of serfdom costs such a bloomin' sight more than the coat and trousers of freedom?—Boston

Not Too Proud to Work
"Here's a nickel," said a thrifty housewife to a tramp at her door.
"Now, what are you going to do with it?"
"Well, mum," replied the hungry man, "if I buy a touring car, I shan't have enough left to pay my chauffeur; if I purchase a steam yacht, there won't be enough left to defray
the cost of manning her; so I guess, mum, I'll get a schooner and handle
it myself."—Everybody's Magazine.

"Always, no matter what we strive for. But a brave heart and a cheerful smile carry you half-way up the hill. Where were you going when this popinjay stopped you?"
"I was going to the clock-mender's for a clock he is repairing."
"I've nothing to do. I'll go with you. I've an idea that I should like to talk with you about a very important matter. Perhaps it would be easier to talk first and then go for the clock. If you have it you'll be watching it. Will you come into the garden with me now?"
"Yes, Herr." Gretchen would have gone anywhere with this strange man. He inspired confidence.
The garden was a snug little place; a few peach-trees and arbor-vines and vegetables, and tables and chairs on the brick wall.
"So you are going to become a prima donna?" he began, seating himself opposite her.
"I am going to try," she smiled.
"What is it you wish to say to me?"
"I am wondering how to begin,"
looking at the blue sky.
"Is it difficult?"
"Yes, very."
"Then, why bother?"
"Some things are written before we are born. And I must, in the order of things, read this writing to you."
"Begin," said Gretchen.
"Have you any dreams?"
"Yes," vaguely.
"I mean the kind one has in the daytime, the dreams when the eyes are wide open."
"Oh, yes!"
"Who has not dreamed of riding
in carriages, of dressing in silks,
of wearing rich ornaments?"
"Ah!" Gretchen clasped her hands and leaned on her elbows.
"And there are palaces, too."
"To be sure." There was a long pause. "How would you like a dream of this kind to come true?"

"Do they ever come true?"
"In this particular case, I am a fairy. I know that I do not look it; still, I am. With one touch of my wand—this oak staff—I can bring you all these things you have dreamed about."
"But what would I do with carriages and jewels? I am only a goose-girl, and I am to be married."
"To that young rascal of a vintner?"
"He is not a rascal!" loyally.
"It will take but little to make him one," with an odd grimace.
Gretchen did not understand.
He resumed. "How would you like a little palace, with servants at your beck and call, with carriages to ride in, with silks and velvets to wear, and jewels to adorn your hair?
How would you like these things?"
Eh? Never again to worry about your hands, never again to know the weariness of toil, to be mistress of swans instead of geese?"
A shadow fell upon Gretchen's face; the eagerness died out of her eyes.
"I do not understand you, Herr.
By what right should I possess these things?"
"By the supreme right of beauty, beauty alone."
"Would it be—honest?"
For the first time he lowered his eyes. The clear crystal spirit in hers embarrassed him.
"Come, let us go for your clock,"
he said, rising. "I am an old fool.
I forgot that one talks like this only to opera-dancers."
Then Gretchen understood. "I am all alone," she said; "I have to fight
my battles with these two hands."
"I am a black devil, Kindchen.
Forget what I have said. You are worthy the brightest crown in Europe; but you wear a better one than that—goodness, if any one should ever make you unhappy, come to me.
I will be your godfather. Will you forgive an old man who ought to have known better?"
There was such unmistakable honesty in his face and eyes that she did not hesitate, but placed her hand in his.
"Why did you ask all those questions?" she inquired.
"Perhaps it was only to test your strength. You are a brave and honest girl."
"And if trouble came," now smiling, "where should I find you?"
"I shall be near when it comes.
Good fairies are always close at hand." He swept his hat from his head; ease and grace were in the movement; no irony, nothing but respect. "And do you love this vint-
ner?"
"With all my heart."
"And he loves you?"
"Yes. His lips might lie, but not his eyes and the touch of his hand."
"So much the worse!" said the mountaineer inaudibly.
Gretchen had gone home with her clock; but still Herr Ludwig, as the mountaineer called himself, tarried in the dim and dusty shop. Clocks, old and new, broken and whole,
clocks from the four ends of the world; and watches, thick and clumsy, thin and graceful, of gold and silver, and pewter.
"Is there anything you want?"
asked the clock-mender.
Herr Ludwig turned. How old this clock-mender was, how very old!
"Yes," he said. "I've a watch I should like you to look over." And he carelessly laid the beautiful time-piece on the worn wooden counter.
The clock-mender literally pounced upon it. "Where did you get a watch like this?" he demanded suspiciously.
"It is mine. You will find my name engraved inside the back lid."
The clock-mender pried open the case, adjusted his glass—and dropped it, shaking with terror.
"You?" he whispered.
"Sh!" said Herr Ludwig, putting a finger to his lips.

CHAPTER XIV.
Find the Woman.
The watch, slipping from the clock-mender's hand, spun like a coin on the counter, while the clock-mender himself, his eyes bulging,
his jaw dangling, it might be said,
staggered back upon his stool.
"So this is the end?" he said in a kind of mutter.
"The end of what?" demanded the owner of the watch.
"Of all my labors, to me and to what little I have left!"
"Fiddlesticks! I am here for no purpose regarding you, my comrade.
So far as I am concerned, you secret is as dead as it ever was. I had a fancy that you were living in Paris."

"Paris! Gott! For seventeen, eighteen years I have traveled hither and thither, always on some false clue. Never a band of Gipsies I heard of that I did not seek them out. Nothing, nothing! You will never know what I have gone through, and uselessly, to prove my innocence. It always comes back in a circle; what benefit to me would have been a crime like that of which I was accused. Was I not high in honor? Was I not wealthy? Was not my home life a happy one? What benefit to me, I say? a growing fierceness in his voice and gestures.
"All my estates confiscated, my wife dead of shame, and I molding among these clocks!"
"But why the clocks?" in wonder.
"It was a pastime of mine when I was a boy. I used to be tinkering among all the clocks in the house.
So I bought out this old shop. From time to time I have left it in the hands of an assistant. The grand duke has a wonderful Priesian clock.
One day it fell out of order, and the court jeweler could do nothing with it. I was summoned. I! No one recognized me, I have changed so. I mended the clock and went away."
"But what is the use of all this,
now that her highness is found?"
"My honor; to the duke it is black as ever."
"Have you gone forward any?"
"Like Sisyphus! I had begun to give up hope, when the Gipsy I was seeking was seen by one of my agents. He alone knows the secret. And I am waiting, waiting.
But you believe, Ludwig?"
"Carl, you are as innocent of it all as I am or as my brother was. Come with me to Jugendheim."
"No, Ludwig, this is my country,
however unjustly it has treated me."
"Yes, yes. And to think that you and I and the grand duke were comrades at Heidelberg! But if your Gipsy fails you?"
"Still I shall remain. This will be all I shall have, these clocks. I am only sixty-eight, yet no one would believe me under eighty. I no longer gaze into mirrors. I have forgotten how I look. There were letters found in my desk, all forgeries. I knew, but so cleverly done I could only deny. I saw that my case was hopeless, so I fled to Paris. I wrote Herbeck once while there. He believed that I was innocent. I have his letter yet. He has a great heart, Ludwig, and he has done splendid work for Ehrenstein."
"He keeps a steady hand on the duke."
"But you, what are you doing in Dreilberg, in this guise?"
Herr Ludwig sat upon the counter and clasped a knee. "Do you care for fairy-stories?"
"Sometimes."

A Quaker Wedding.

"Before God and in the presence of these friends, I, John Smith, take thee, Jane Doe, to be my wife, and I promise to be unto thee a loving and faithful husband." That is what the bridegroom says at a Quaker wedding, as nearly as the writer, who attended one last week can remember it. Then the bride says the same thing, interchanging names and substituting "wife" for "husband." After that they kiss and sign their names to a document, which is read before the meeting, and which all those present may sign afterward. That's all, and it's enough. The young people marry themselves, taking the covenant without a clergyman's intervention, without even a presiding officer to say "We have with us today," etc. It is a mighty valid marriage ceremony to those who witness it, and there is a sweet simplicity about it that gives it a charm and dignity no less than priestly robes, stained glass and organ music could impart.—New York Evening Mail.

French Women in Politics.

Madam Durand, one of the leaders of the feminist movement in France, makes the suggestion that while conscription continues in force, a compulsory nursing service for all women over twenty-one—save mothers—be instituted. Another question which the women there are considering is the forbidding of the sale of absinthe which, as all who have lived in Paris know, is responsible for the ruin of many a career. In France women know that a breath of ridicule would kill their cause, and so their methods in pursuing the elusive vote have to be the most dignified. In spite of the fact that they have big odds to contend with, the cause is undoubtedly forging ahead in Paris. A regular electoral campaign is being held and daily meetings are in order. Both press and politicians have had their attention attracted by the work the women are carrying on and are giving it considerable time and attention.

German Acuteness.

The egg cups imported into India at one time all came from Great Britain. The Indian eggs are, however, very small, and the egg cups did not fit. A German traveler noticed this small item and got his firm to make smaller egg cups and export them there. All the trade is now in German hands.

In Africa the scissors imported from Sheffield were found to be rather dangerous weapons to place in the hands of the natives, owing to their sharp points. The Solingen Steel works sent a lot of round-pointed scissors out, which found favor, and now Germany has captured the whole market.—From "Germany of the Germans."

Road Officials Preparing to Increase Wages From 6 to 10 Per Cent

The Burlington road is preparing to increase the wages of its unorganized employees between 6 and 10 per cent. The increases will affect every employee earning a salary of $200 or less, and will be entirely voluntary on the part of the management.

It is stated that the increases will affect between 20,000 and 30,000 employees the larger part of them being clerks in the various offices who are getting small salaries. Complete data has not been gathered regarding the proposed increases but it is thought that the pay roll of the company will be increased between $4,000,000 and $7,000,000 annually. The last voluntary raise granted by this management of the Burlington increased its pay roll more than $4,000,000.

It is understood that the Burlington now has about 54,000 employees on its entire system, and that between 60 and 70 per cent of them are in organized labor ranks. The increases, if granted, will take in every office on the system. It is understood that the Burlington's action will be followed by similar action on the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, which are Hill roads, and which have fully 100,000 employees, a large per cent of whom would be affected by the increase.

ELLIOTT SIGNS A GIANT FOR UMPIRE

President Elliott of the Minny league today announced that he had signed Thomas E. O'Connor to handle the indicator in the league this summer to fill the vacancy of W. E. Griffith who has gone to the Nebraska State league. Mr. O'Connor arrived here today. He is a big fellow being six feet two inches tall and built accordingly. He worked last year in the Inter-Mountain league where he acquired a good reputation with the indicator. He will work tomorrow at Eau Claire.

EXTREME HEAT FATAL TO YOUNG INFANT

Edmund J. Neuman, the nine months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Neumann, 522 Berlin street died about 8:30 o'clock this morning, death being due to the extreme heat and other complications.

The funeral will be held at the St. Johns church at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. Kaluza officiating and Undertaker Dwyer in charge. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

SHOWS ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Cosmopolitan Carnival Company will Open North Side Carnival at 8 A. M. Monday

The Cosmopolitan Carnival company will arrive in the city tomorrow afternoon from Mason City, Iowa, where they have been showing during the past week and will open the north side carnival promptly at 2 o'clock Monday morning.

All is in readiness for an auspicious opening. The weather, it is expected, will continue fair and although it may be rather warm, the show men will be better pleased with that than rain.

Harry Snyder, one of the leading men of the executive staff of the company, was in the city yesterday placing the shows on the streets. He left last night for Mason City.

After Monday the shows will start in the afternoon instead of the morning as on Monday.

The officers and directors of the North Side Amusement association expect the carnival to be the biggest success in their history.

BROKE, THEY RIDE IN AEROPLANE

PARIS, July 2.—The lack of a price of railway tickets was responsible for three remarkable aeroplane flights today when aviators Weymann and Martinet flew from Weymann to Rheims, 100 miles, where they will participate in the big aviation meeting that begins Sunday.

The men had intended to take a train to Rheims but they "broke" during their practice flight at Buoy and not caring to wait money to be sent from home, they got out their aeroplanes this morning and made splendid flights to the big aviation field at Rheims. All the world practically the same course made the trip without mishaps.

What Are You Interested In?

Cosmopolitan Magazine offers you the most interesting, up-to-date fact stories and fiction stories of all magazines.

Woman's Suffrage:

Every woman in the country is interested in knowing the progress of the Woman's Suffrage movement. The daily newspapers keep them generally informed as to what is going on in this country. But they don't know what the women of Europe are doing. To answer this question, Cosmopolitan Magazine sent Winifred Black to Great Britain to study the situation at first hand. Mrs. Black has told the story in a wonderful presentation of the facts, describing the personalities of the leaders and the movement abroad.

Political Graft:

Under the general title of "What are you going to do about it?" Charles Edward Russell, the famous investigator, sociologist and writer, tells the story of political graft throughout the United States—how legislative rottenness is reaching into the pocket-books of the average citizen. In a series of articles in the Cosmopolitan he makes a big sweeping expose, told in a dramatic style, of public corruption as he has found it in various places in this country.

Religious Thought:

Harold Bolce, whose work along this line of investigation is the most notable of any investigator of his time, exposes the radical revolutionary religion that is being taught in the women's colleges of this country; shows how these young women are being graduated into the world equipped with a religious training that is startling, if not actually sensational. These articles are now running in the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

Great Men:

Every one is interested in what some BIG man does, or has done. The Cosmopolitan Magazine is fortunate in having been able to induce Porfirio Diaz, "Dictator-President of Mexico," to write his autobiography. Besides that, Cosmopolitan has secured the autobiography of General Miles, whom military experts abroad regard as a very great soldier. Both President Diaz and General Miles have been makers of history in the biggest sense. Their autobiographies will appear in the Cosmopolitan.

Perfect Health:

The new thought health movement in this country is growing bigger every day, and Cosmopolitan is running a series of articles on that subject, each of which is written by a noted experimenter in the sciences of keeping well. Upton Sinclair has already written one, and many other equally eminent writers are to follow. Besides this, Dr. Woods Hutchinson is writing articles on the care of babies, which are of extremely practical nature for every American home.

Fiction Stories:

You like a good story—every one does, whether it be a love story, an adventure story, a laugh story, or a tear story. Among the fiction writers that the Cosmopolitan has been enabled to get to write stories for you are: O. Henry, Bruno Lessing, Jacques Futrelle, Jack London, Porter Emerson Brown, Alfred Henry Lewis, George Randolph Chester, Sir Gilbert Parker, Agnes and Edger-ton Castle, and a score of others, all of whom contribute one or more of their best short stories. Then there is Robert W. Chambers' new serial, which will begin in the Cosmopolitan soon. Watch for it.

Cosmopolitan Magazine offers the most interesting, up-to-date fact stories and fiction stories of all magazines.

 series of dances some time in July.

PICNIC AT BOYD COTTAGE

Yesterday afternoon a party of twenty or more went by launch to Dresbach, where they enjoyed the hospitality of the Misses Boyd at their cottage, "Riverview." The first stop made was at the beautiful spring where all refreshed themselves with long copious draughts of aqua pura. Supper was served upon the veranda and early in the evening baskets were repacked and the return voyage begun, which was a most delightful one. In the party were Mesdames Meason, Beisel, Soderberg,

VIROQUA BOY IS KILLED BY TRAIN

VIROQUA, Wis., July 2.—Deepest gloom reigns over the home of Wm.
 Tewalt and family since yesterday,
 when they received word that their third son had been killed by the railroad at Neillsville. This son, Chester, aged about 16, had gone to Marshfield in company with an older brother, Claude, to see their cousin
 Ray. They did not buy a return ticket on their way home, but decided to catch a ride. When Chester boarded the train, some of the crew knocked him off, Mr. Tewalt says, and before the boy could get out of the way the train ran over him. The son, Claude, sent a telegram home at once, and the father obtained further particulars over the telephone. Claude will arrive today with the remains. The two boys had been working in a furniture factory at Neillsville. The dead boy's parents had received a letter from him day before yesterday.

REV. LOUIS MAGIN IS HERE

Rev. Louis Magin, new pastor of the First M. E. church of this city has arrived with his mother and will preach his first sermon at the King Street church tomorrow. The new minister comes from Bismark, N. D., where he was replaced by Rev. A. L. Shute, formerly of the local church.
 Until the parsonage can be made ready he is staying at the Stoddard.
 Rev. Magin comes well recommended, is regarded as a strong and energetic man. He is unmarried.

Not Too Proud to Work

"Here's a nickel," said a thrifty housewife to a tramp at her door. "Now, what are you going to do with it?"

"Well, mum," replied the hungry man, "if I buy a touring car, I shan't have enough left to pay my chauffeur; if I purchase a steam yacht, there won't be enough left to defray the cost of manning her; so I guess, mum, I'll get a schooner and handle it myself."—Everybody's Magazine.

LISTMAN MILL'S FIRE DEPARTMENT

Big Stream Shot Over Top of Seven-Story Mill in the Test This Morning

The apparatus of the new fire department was tested out this morning, and the plant passed inspection most magnificently.

No, the city don't own it; it is the Listman Mills fire department. The new 1,000 gallons per minute pump, run by engines capable of producing 250 pounds pressure, shot four 1 1/2 inch streams over the top of the seven story mill, and demonstrated that they are capable of handling any fire they can reach as effectively as can the fire department of the average city of this size.

The test was made under the supervision of Capt. Fred C. McGlathlin of department No. 1, who brought to assist him three of the boys of his department. A four-hose "deluge" section was used, and with but 160 of its possible 250 pounds of pressure employed, the equipment was shown to have marvelous efficiency.

For the mills General Manager George M. Heath, Superintendent of Milling W. A. Wager and Chief Engineer Leroy Bell participated, and they expressed satisfaction with the result.

Fire Chief Bradford had gladly accepted an offer made by Mr. Heath to have the connections made to correspond with those used by the city, so the public fire department can, in any emergency hook onto the mill plant and get the benefit of its equipment.

The efficiency of the plant is augmented, so far as fire in the mills is concerned, by stand pipe connections permitting hose to be attached on any floor and upon the roof. The combined arrangement affords fire protection as nearly complete as modern ingenuity can make it.

Incongruous in the statement that James J. Jeffries will be in the best condition of his career when he enters the ring next Monday. There is nothing miraculous about it and this true expression has become an actual fact.

The reason for the supposed incongruity lies in the fact that "retirement" is commonly associated with old age. Jeff's retirement came when he was 30 years of age, before the physical maturity to which men of large physique sometimes come late. This is proved by the fact that Jeff is larger boned now than he was then and that he has developed in every manner.

Jeffries has not had to "come back" in the sense that he was a "has been" but as a precaution he has devoted a year and a half to preparation for a fight for which training would usually last only six weeks.

Jeff will be faster Monday than in any previous fight. His whole system of training has been designed to build up his speed and soften his muscles. As the result of having soft muscles, he will be better able to stand punishment than he would if nature's armor had been made hard and rigid. With this end in view, Jeffries has actually spent more time on the message table than in exercise and the result will be an athletic masterpiece for speed and endurance. A great deal has been said of Jeff's lack of boxing practice. On the eve of the fight, now that secrecy is no longer of any value, I will say that Jeffries has had practically double the amount of boxing and message than the public has heard of.

For several weeks past and on practically every day when the crowd was disappointed in not getting to see the big fellow work, he was boxing. Jeff has been rising at 4 a. m. and has been hauling out his brother Jack and Bog Armstrong for secret boxing. These workouts were invariably followed by massage, the whole proceeding being kept secret in order to clinch the belief in Johnson's camp that Jeff was not working as hard as necessary.

Jeff will win this fight well under twenty rounds, but should the battle go beyond that it will see Jeff carrying the battle, so full of speed and vitality as to surprise all except his most intimate followers.

May be Finish Fight
RENO, Nev., July 2.—While the followers of both Jeffries and Johnson seem confident the fight will not last twenty rounds, and certainly will not go to the prescribed 45 rounds, it is practically certain that if both men are on their feet at the end of the 45th round, and the boxing has been so even that a decision is impossible, the managers of both men will let the fight go until one or the other is knocked out. Johnson's managers have agreed to do this, but Jeff's managers say it will not be necessary. It is believed they, too, will agree. The taking of moving pictures at Jeff's camp yesterday was a farce because a wine merchant was allowed to thrust his advertising matter into the picture as much as the champion himself.

Betting has been light and there does not seem an over abundance of Johnson money in sight. The prevailing odds remain at 10 to 6 1/2 on the white man.

Jack Johnson inspected the ring, danced around on the platform for fifteen minutes and went over every foot of it pronouncing it perfect.

The negro is obdurate about the matter of tossing a coin for corners. He insists that the tossing must take place after both he and Jeffries are in the ring and not a minute before.

FIRE FATAL IN ST. LOUIS TODAY

Burning of Oil Tanks Results in Death and Injury and will Burn for Three Weeks

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 2.—One fire captain and H. Flicker, a laborer, were killed, and three firemen seriously cut and burned today in a fire which destroyed the Waters-Pierce Oil company's storage and shipping station here. It is certain the loss entailed will be between $200,000 and $300,000.

The fire captain, M. J. Lyons, was caught under a falling wall and his body has not yet been recovered. Flicker, the laborer, was caught in falling debris and fatally burned before he could be rescued.

The fire was one of the most spectacular seen in St. Louis since a similar fire at the same place several years ago. Three giant storage oil tanks were destroyed together with scores of smaller testing tanks and other oil receptacles. There were nineteen terrific explosions, the flames shooting into the air from 150 to 200 feet.

Firemen say the blaze cannot be extinguished for two or three weeks. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

DISCHARGED PROF. WROTE THE SPEECH

NEW YORK, July 2.—A cable from London stating that Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, admitted there that the Latin address he is to deliver before the University of Berlin was written by Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, whose resignation he has demanded, caused much discussion in educational circles here today. Dr. Butler said that Peck writes Latin particularly well and that it has been part of his duties for the past several years to write all of the Latin addresses issued by the university.

Prof. Peck made it plain today that he had not charged Butler with "sailing under false colors." He said, however, that he had made the fact public to demonstrate that there was some other reason for Butler demanding his resignation than any belief that he was not competent to fill his position.

GREAT AVIATION MEETING SUNDAY

PARIS, July 2.—The Rheims aviation meeting, probably the biggest scheduled for Europe this year, will begin tomorrow with every indication that last year's remarkable successes will be repeated. In the nine days of flying, prizes totaling $65,000 will be awarded, the largest list ever offered.

Nearly all the well known men-birds of Europe have entered in one or more of the events. Among these are Rolis, Bleriot and De Lesseps, the channel crossers; Paulhan, Farman, Dubonet, Lambert and many others of the French flyers. Sixty-three machines have been entered, including 40 biplanes and 23 monoplanes.

SEPARATE WHITES AND THE BLACKS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 2.—In order that there shall be no chance of a race war following Monday's battle at Reno, Mayor Frank P. O'Brien today issued an order that negroes and whites shall not be permitted to congregate in the same places to hear the news of the fight.

JEFFRIES FAVORED BY LA CROSSE MEN

Up to late this afternoon little money has been wagered in this city on the Jeffries-Johnson fight. The little money that has been offered has been placed at odds of 10 to 7, favoring Jeffries. It is expected that the betting will become brisker tonight and tomorrow.

POPE HAS FAINTING SPELL

ROME, July 2.—Pope Pius X was visited today with a light fainting spell from heat which necessitated the attendance upon him of Dr. Petacci.

The Ruby is the birth stone for July. Those deep, rich, red gems, that flash millions of rays of fire, have never been more in favor than now.

This store shows a complete line of real rubies in rings, pendants, scarf pins, cuff buttons, etc.

The re-constructed ruby and the ruby doublet have all the life and fire of a genuine ruby, but are less expensive. We also show a full line with these settings.

Packet Finished and Is Waiting for Inspection by U. S. Officials Tuesday

Announcement was made by the local officers of the La Crosse-Wabasha packet company that the steamer La Crosse which has been undergoing a thorough overhauling on the ways at Wabasha is now ready and that it would be launched as soon as the steamboat inspectors had looked over the craft.

An effort is being made to have the officials inspect the packet Tuesday in which event the boat will reach here Tuesday evening. The service between the two cities will be started immediately.

seems as if no one could see it without being made the better and influenced for good.

We are so apt to think of the story of Jesus' life and sufferings as a far away legendary sort of a myth. But this lecture so dramatically given by Father MacCorrey, and leading up from the birth of Jesus to his ascension, brought the actual happenings near to the listeners with great force. A great many of the views are from celebrated paintings, and those of Lake Genesaret were especially fine. Mr. McDonald interspersed the lecture with several numbers.

More Good Things

The management of the Chautauqua has made a special effort to arrange an exceptionally interesting one that will suit all tastes and a program for Sunday at the big tent, peal to all classes.

The Fox Sisters' orchestra come greatly recommended as one of the really popular Chautauqua organizations. They will give two artistic programs tomorrow. In addition to their ensemble work each is a soloist of ability.

Edward Russell Perry is one of the leading ministers of New York city, and his lecture on "Samson Aroused," is a masterpiece of oratory. Mr. Perry lectures in the afternoon.

In the evening following the concert comes the anticipated entertainment lecture of Strickland W. Gillilan, who is described as the funniest man on the American platform. Mr. Gillilan's subject, "Tinkles and Trickle," has pleased thousands of audiences.

Monday's Fine Program
Monday, the final day of the interesting Chautauqua week, will be a big day in every respect. At 10 o'clock Mr. Mott R. Sawyers will give his final lecture. It will be an interesting discourse suitable to the day. No one will want to miss hearing Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota, one of the biggest men in the west today, and a recognized force at Washington. Senator Clapp is an ideal attraction for the "Glorious Fourth." The Lee-Lathrop-Fullenwider Concert company, who are absolutely unexcelled in their programs, will be the musical offering for the afternoon and evening. Miss Myrtle Lee, the soprano, is an artist who has made good in Europe, and her coming will be awaited with interest. Mr. Fullenwider is a violinist of no ordinary ability.

The final entertainment of the week will be "Floyd," the world famous magician. Mr. Floyd carries $2,000 worth of properties, and requires a stage twice as large as that used at the regular programs. This attraction will be of great interest to the boys and girls as well as the older folks, and it will be a good place at which to spend the holiday evening.

Mr. O'Neal's Lecture
Ernest W. O'Neal of Chicago held Chautauqua audiences in thrall yesterday afternoon while he gave his views on some "Popular Fallacies."

It was a splendid lecture "the best yet" some said, and notwithstanding the intense heat, a goodly number were present.

"Is in ourselves we are what we are," said Mr. O'Neal, "and what matter it, how high some attain in certain lines, it is a fallacy to think we in our sphere are not accomplishing just exactly as much. Wisdom doesn't always speak in Greek. Success used to be a privilege, now it is a duty, and no man needs to be an intellectual dwarf."

"Success is not to be judged by its immediate results, but by its ultimate consequences. Abraham Lincoln never lived to see his aim realized, but no one has ever said he was a failure."

"There are many successful failures, and many failed successes."

What is Success?
"Success is really a question of getting into right relations with other folks."

"To do this one must be healthy. It is a fallacy to think brain can dispense with brawn. Paleness and piety don't go together by any means. To be a first class man or

CANNOT IDENTIFY THE HOLD-UP MEN

Three Laboring Men Arrested on the Charge of Robbery, Released by Court

Because James Wilson and his partner were unable to positively identify the men who robbed the former in front of Ole Brown's saloon on the North side Wednesday evening, Judge Brindley released John Welch, William Gray and Thomas Denison, who were arrested by the police.

Wilson testified that he was sitting in front of the saloon with his partner when three men came up, one placing his hand over Wilson's mouth, the other holding his legs and the third going through his pockets and stealing 60 cents. Wilson said he thought Welch and Gray were two of the men, but was unable to identify Denison. Wilson admitted that he was pretty drunk at the time and in view of the fact that he was not certain as to whether these were the men who robbed him the court discharged all of them.

woman, it is necessary to be a first class animal.

Don't Be Sick
"It is a fallacy to think you have to be sick. Fight your way back to health. The sun is the chief physician. Many doctors are pouring medicine of which they know little down people's throats of which they know less, to cure disease of which they know nothing."

"The glory of a young man is his strength. Health is a duty, and we should honor the body more."

Physique has a lot to do with brain power. Dr. O'Neal cited many cases of the great men of history who were magnificent specimens of manhood.

Genius In All of Us
One of the greatest of fallacies is to believe that genius is far above common mortals. Genius is the highest expression of nature and the average citizen makes it possible. In many cases it is called out by circumstances.

After all genius has been defined as patience, sticktoitiveness, common sense intensified and nineteenth century industry.

It is a fallacy to suppose that genius can be separated from hard work. There is no eminence gained without toil.

Character is Everything
It is a fallacy to think that intellect can take the place of character.

Your reputation is what men think you are. Your character is what God knows you are. A person's reputation cannot be long good if the character is bad, and cannot be long bad if the character is good.

SLIGHTLY COOLER, BUT NO BIG CHANGE

The temperature this afternoon was 93 degrees, five degrees lower than yesterday, but the change was felt and relieved the situation to a great extent. Weather Observer Thompson says only a change of two or three degrees has been noted throughout the northwest, and tomorrow a continuation of warm weather is expected. Light showers have occurred in South Dakota, southern Montana and in the Mississippi river valley, below Iowa.

There are no marked areas of high or low pressure shown on this morning's chart and no decided change in the weather conditions can be expected. The indications for this section are generally fair weather tonight and Sunday with not much change in temperature.

New York Is Suffering
NEW YORK, July 2.—Following a sweltering night during which the mercury registered 85 and the percentage of humidity was the highest for the summer, New York awoke today gasping, with no prospect of immediate change. The humid atmosphere caused more suffering than when the mercury was hovering about the hundred mark. Five deaths directly due to the heat have been reported to the police early today, and many of the prostrations were recorded as "very serious."

The fact that it was the beginning of a three day holiday helped somewhat. Trains leaving the city today were jammed to the limit.

It was estimated by Police Captain Michael Gavin, commanding the Coney Island precinct, that more than 50,000 people spent the night on the sands at the beach resort. All the exchanges were closed today and will remain closed until July 5, and many of the big stores also shut down to give their employees a three days' rest.

10 Deaths in Chicago
CHICAGO, July 2.—Ten deaths were reported today making a total of more than sixty victims since June 14 when the heat wave first struck Chicago.

A heavy pall of smoke has been hanging over the city and until it is driven away by a stiff breeze there is little hope for relief here.

Although the Saturday half holiday doubtless saved many lives today, fifteen deaths from heat were reported up to 2 p. m.

DEMOCRATS MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Only a Few from Out of the City Respond to the Call Issued by Committee Men

A meeting of the democratic county chairmen of the counties in the Seventh Congressional district is being held in the small council chamber of the city hall this afternoon. The meeting was called by John C. Burns of this city and John Rice of Sparta, members of the democratic state central committee, for the purpose of talking over the political situation and making arrangements for complete tickets in each of the counties. The question of getting out a twenty per cent vote at the primaries, as required by law, was also discussed, and a special effort will be made by the county chairmen to get out a large vote.

The meeting was to have been held this forenoon but only a few of the outsiders arrived this morning so the meeting was postponed until this afternoon. Those who attended were John C. Burns, John F. Doherty and a number of other local democrats, N. Lehrbach of Arcadia, W. N. Wells and John Rice of Sparta, M. P. Cannon of Merrill Junction, and J. H. Carnahan of Black River Falls.

JAIL DELIVERY
FALLS THROUGH
JOLIET, Ill., July 2.—The wholesale jail delivery which was reported to be made here by the state parole board, following the supreme court's decision, upholding the parole law, did not take place. The board considered only two cases before adjournment but will be in session for several days. The application of Abner Smith, wrecker of the Bank of North America at Chicago, for a parole was refused because his case is now before the state pardon board. It is predicted here that he will be granted a pardon.

ROOSEVELT DON'T WANT GOVERNORSHIP
UTICA, N. Y., July 2.—The boom designed to make ex-President Roosevelt the republican candidate for governor of New York state in the fall election, launched by the Republican club of Utica, two weeks ago, came to an abrupt ending today when it was learned that Secretary Fred B. Adams had received a personal letter from Mr. Roosevelt asking the club to cease agitation to have him nominated for governor.

ONE-THIRD OF ALL SALOONS CLOSED
LONDON, July 2.—The closing of one-third the saloons in Great Britain before the end of the year as the result of the increased license fees under the new budget is predicted today following the first day's collection of fees.

The fees are governed by the rental value of the property occupied by the saloons and they average $1,200 under the new budget, as against $300 under the old. This quadrupling of the tax put hundreds of saloons out of business yesterday.

AMERICAN WINS SPRINT
LONDON, July 2.—In the amateur championship athlete meet here today F. L. Ramsdell, the university of Pennsylvania's crack sprinter, won the 100 yard dash. Ramsdell won by seven feet from R. E. Walker, the famous South African sprinter. His time was 10 1/5 seconds.

Ramsdell also won the 220 yard dash in a terrific duel with Whaley, the English star. He barely breast the tape ahead of Whaley, the time being 22 2/5 seconds.

Indian Dandruff Remedy

LOOKS
Indian Dandruff Remedy is the very best remedy for every hair trouble, because it takes direct from nature, for it contains Essence of Olive, which keeps the hair soft and pliable, and prevents the hair falling out. Besides, it contains only one-half of alcohol, while other dandruff remedies are full of alcohol, which causes the growth and removes the natural oil of the hair.

Indian Dandruff Remedy will not fail to promote the growth and health of your hair—even a short trial will show the astonishing results.

YOU
don't know that most all Shampoos are prepared with alkali from inferior soap-making, which is most injurious to the scalp. Indian Shampoo is made of pure olive oil and Egg Albumen, without one bit of alkali or anything of the sort. It is the purest, most healing cleanser you can have, and cleanses the scalp without the least harm to the hair. It is used by all the best barbers.

Outcasts Bat Like Fiends; Connell, Ward and Safford Each Get Three Hits

"Ginger" Charley Watson, the Outcast's southpaw, had a good day yesterday and succeeded in handing Artie O'Dea's Red Sox a long string of zeros on the score board. The score was 6 to 0.

O'Dea announced that Clausen would again start the slaughter and that if he didn't last Krick would take a trip to the hill. Clausen didn't last but O'Dea left him at the firing line and the local batters were not a bit merciful. They pounded him for something like a dozen bingles while Watson had about as many strikeouts to his credit. Most of the innings were of the one, two and three order for the La Crosse twirler. In the fourth round they succeeded in getting two hits which looked dangerous but they brought nought in the line of runs.

La Crosse scored on the jump, getting two runs in the first round. Connell flied out to right and Ward slammed a safe one to left. Doll unorked a three bagger in between center and right gardens, scoring Ward. Safford's swat to center counted Doll.

In the next round the Outcasts added another. Clausen hit Kuehn and Watson sacrificed him to second. Connell got a single in left which scored Bunny.

In the third inning the fourth tally was annexed on a two hit route. Safford connected with a salivated slant for a single in center, was sacrificed by Zaluskus and scored when Klein poled another slobbered pellet into right field for two bases.

The fourth saw the last two runs of the game pounded in. Kuehn commenced by striking out. Watson was transported free of charge to first and went to second when Connell drove a single to center. Ward willowed into the pill for two bases in left, scoring Watson. Ward died at the plate, being thrown out on Doll's ground slam to third. Safford flied out to right.

After this round Clausen tightened up and pitched good ball. No more runs were made and the game ended with the score standing 6 to 0. Watson had wielded the calcimino brush a la Mthwescn. The official score:

SCHMIRLER REJOINS
THE DULUTH TEAM

DULUTH, Minn., July 2.—Pitcher Schmirler, one of the best heavers in the Minny league last year, who was drafted by the Chicago White Sox at the end of the season, will join the team tomorrow. This will give O'Brien a good pitching staff in Daus, Cummings, Schmirler and Blanche. Marion's arm is still in poor condition and what will be done with this man is still a problem.

CLOTHING CO. TO PLAY AT LA FARGE

The La Crosse Clothing company team will leave for La Farge Sunday morning, where they will meet the strong aggregation of that place. Two games will be played, one Sunday afternoon and the other Fourth of July morning. Stuve and Walters will be the twirlers for the Clothing company, while Ludwick will do the receiving. The following players will take part in the game: Wofke, Walters, Stuve, Wuest, Larsen, Wigend, Uhrich, Bart, Lavold, Ludwick, Kolb.

PHYSICIAN GIVES
JEFFRIES HOPE

By Max Balthasar
JEFFRIES TRAINING CAMP, Mo-

ana Springs, Reno, Nev., July 2.—Jeffries' stock got a tremendous boost when Jack Jeffries declared that Dr. Porter, the physician who on Thursday examined Jack Johnson, told him that the negro's frame seems to weak too sustain a long battle and that Jeffries has a much greater lung capacity.

This statement has simply set Jeffries' trainers wild, with joy and they are already declaring that the big "bear" will be a 1 to 2 shot if the battle goes over fifteen rounds.

The impression is general in this camp that Johnson may look sleek and lean outside but that he is fat inside as the result of ale imbibed during training to hold his weight. Should this be so Jeffries' chances are probably increased enormously.

A Glorious Outing, Topped off by Refreshing
Draughts of the World's Finest Beer!

The King of Beverages!

The crowning feature of Fourth-of-July's celebration—a glorious one-day outing for the family and your nearest friends—should be delightful draughts of the world's only beer of distinctive, original, pleasing flavor—

Gund's Peerless Beer

Gund's Peerless beer is the beer of good health and good cheer. The Fourth-of-July fun of thousands of families will be climaxed by Peerless, a wonderful brew of the world's very finest barley, Bohemian hops and spring water flowing from a well in granite rock.

Here's a beer that's different—supremely better than just ordinary beer. Send for a case today and prove it to your own satisfaction on the "Fourth."

HAIR WHITE AS SNOW

Restored to Natural Color with One Bottle of

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR
HAIR RESTORER

The Only True Hair Restorer, Tonic and Rejuvenator

ALMOST A MIRACLE

My hair was as white as snow when I commenced using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer. One bottle restored my hair to its natural dark brown color. As I am now 70 years old, I consider the result most remarkable. It is an agreeable and refreshing hair dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy, without being in the least greasy or sticky.

WM. WESTLAKE,
210 West Main Street, Rochester, N. Y.

Why hesitate when WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is daily producing just such results?

After years of study and analysis of the hair, we have been able to produce an ideal Hair Tonic and Restorer, which contains an actual-constituent of hair, combined with ingredients of recognized merit for treatment of hair and scalp diseases. It makes and keeps the scalp clean and healthy, gives life, strength and lustre to the hair, and restores faded and gray hair to natural color.

No matter how long and thick your hair is, WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER will make it longer and thicker. It will remove every trace of dandruff in a few days, stop falling in one week, and start a new growth in from one to three months.

These are facts that have been proven in scores of cases. WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER is guaranteed to do all that it is claimed to do or the price will be refunded.

HE TELLS OF THE LAND OF PROMISE

H. M. Weir, Publicity Commissioner of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, Is Here

IS A WONDERFUL COUNTRY

Man Staying at Stoddard Gives Details of Land Across the Canadian Border

Wonder tales from Saskatchewan were related at the Stoddard hotel last night. The narrator was H. M. Weir, publicity commissioner of Yorkton, Saskatchewan, and he is direct from the scene of a land movement that is startling even in western Canada. Rumors of the movement have been heard here from time to time and it has created a considerable impression. It is difficult to pick out features in a statement of facts that fairly scintillates with surprise, but perhaps the most remarkable observation of these facts is that the immigration into Canada from the United States has so far this year been the largest for any given period since the country began. In the month of March the total immigration into Canada was 33,665, of which number 17,316 came from the United States. For over an hour he told of what these Americans were doing to develop the great Canadian West. He told of tracts of land several sections square on which the gasoline and steam plow of the men from the United States were working from early dawn till dark. He told of the oats that were being sown in the Yorkton district and which had yielded in former years as high as 100 bushels to the acre and which in many instances yielded sufficient to pay for the property almost in the first season. He gave actual names of many residents of the Yorkton district who hailed from the state of Wisconsin and incidentally unfolded a story of a development of the Yorkton district which was beyond the comprehension of those who were not familiar with the progressive west. Mr. Weir said that Yorkton was the distributing center of eastern Saskatchewan, was the largest grain shipping point in western Canada and the oats center of the world and is also a large cattle shipping point, shipping yearly hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of choice cattle. Added to these natural advantages, it is also the judicial, educational and land registration center of eastern Saskatchewan. It is quite a railroad center, being on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railroad, 279 miles west of Winnipeg, has branches of the Grand Trunk Pacific and will shortly be connected with the main line of the Canadian Northern. It is also the district headquarters of that famous organization, the royal northwest mounted police. Mr. Weir was very emphatic on the point of Yorkton desiring Americans as settlers as we recognize that no better type of citizens exist than the American and that Yorkton's board of trade was always willing to answer any inquiries and do all in their power to show the visitors the possibilities of this wonderful country, either from an agricultural or manufacturing standpoint.

PROBE EXPLOSION AT BOULDER, MONT.

HELENA, Mont., July 2.—An official investigation will be made of the explosion at Boulder, Jefferson county, Thursday night in which six persons were instantly killed and a score injured, one fatally, according to advices from here. No estimate on the financial loss has yet been made but it will be large.

The explosion occurred in the building of the Graves Mercantile Co. when Geo. Hart fired a 22 calibre rifle bullet into the side of the building. The bullet exploded a large quantity of powder, wrecking the Groves building, the telephone exchange, electric light plant and half a dozen stores. The dead: George Hart, his wife and two year old daughter.

Mrs. Gladys Mifflin, Hart's sister-in-law.
Wm. Robinson and Leavitt Kirby Albert Miller, one of the injured is dying.

ERHART ELECTED STATE PRESIDENT

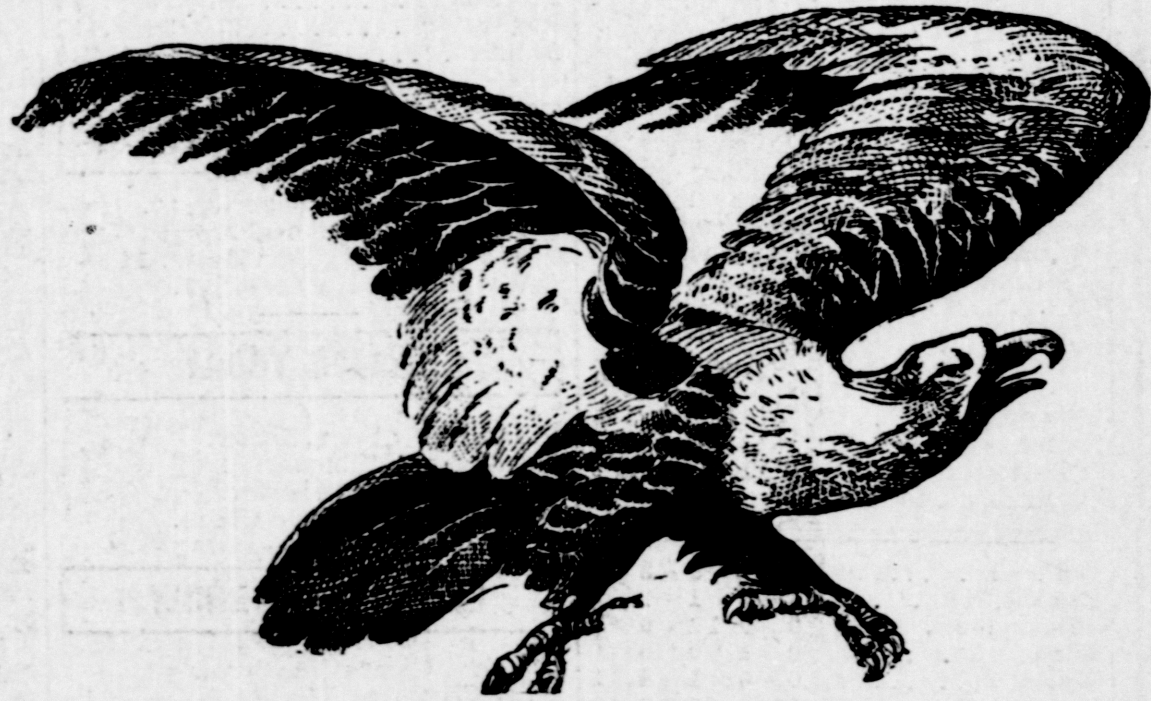

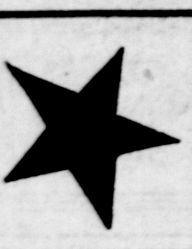

O. T. Erhart of this city was elected president of the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association at its convention which closed yesterday at Elkhart Lake, Wis. The other officers are as follows:

First vice president—M. C. Tracer, New London.
Second vice president—L. H. Kresen, Milwaukee.
Secretary—E. B. Heimstreet, Palmyra.

Treasurer—W. P. Clark, Milton.
It is practically assured the convention will be held at Elkhart again in 1911, this being the fourth time they have met there.

GERMAN BEAUTY SEEKS SUICIDE

ALLENSTEIN, Germany, July 2.—Frau Von Schoenbeck-Weber, who, on Tuesday was found to be raving mad as a result of her prolonged trial on a charge of being implicated in the murder of her husband, Major Von Schoenbeck, tried to commit suicide in the hotel where she is being temporarily restrained. Frau Von Schoenbeck cut an artery in her leg and had nearly bled to death when found by the hotel attendants. The leg was bandaged but she tore the bandage loose and shouted: "I am resolved to die."

The trial of the woman, which had been in progress a month, was practically abandoned Tuesday, though she is being held at the hotel in the hope that her condition will become such that the trial may be resumed. Today's demonstration makes this improbable. She is 35 years old, but so beautiful she would be taken for 18.

JUROR SUES WAYMAN FOR $50,000 TODAY

CHICAGO, July 2.—Chas. Spare, a juror in the Browne senatorial bribery case, today filed a libel suit for $50,000 against States Attorney Wayman. The suit is based on Wayman's statement that Spare was the man who hung the Browne jury. Wayman was also quoted in the papers as expressing the opinion that the jury had been fixed.

PROGRESSIVES STRONG IN WEST

J. O. Storey of Portland, Ore., is in the city, called here by Mrs. Hiram Goddard, whose husband had lumber interests in the west with Mr. Storey. Business matters are being closed and Mr. Storey will remain here about ten days.

Speaking of the west Mr. Storey said that business is good along the coast and everything is prosperous. Although much business is being done in lumbering circles, the dealers are not making much money. Mr. Storey says the freight rates eat up all the profits. Cars of lumber for which the dealer receives $400 are charged about $300 freight, thus leaving only $100 for the dealer. "These are the things that make the arguments in politics," said Mr. Storey. "The railroads and trusts are getting the money and holding up the business men and the stalwarts are upholding the big interests. The progressive movement is strong in the west largely through the high freight rates that are charged by the railroads."

PORTER CHARLTON

JUDGE PAUL CHARLTON

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS.

Pursuant to a resolution of the county board of La Crosse County, Wisconsin, duly passed by said county board at the adjourned annual meeting thereof duly held on the 31st day of March, 1910, the undersigned chairman of said county board and county clerk of said county and county treasurer thereof, acting together as a committee, will receive sealed proposals on the 6th day of July, 1910, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the office of the county clerk of said county of La Crosse for the purchase of certain bonds of said county of La Crosse to the amount of $76,000.00, issued by said county of La Crosse for the erection of certain additions to and the installing of certain improvements in the La Crosse County Insane Asylum at West Salem, in said county and state.

The bonds are signed by the chairman of said county board and by the county clerk of said county of La Crosse in their respective official capacities and are sealed with the seal of La Crosse County and bear the name of "La Crosse County Insane Asylum Bonds." They consist of one hundred fifty-two bonds of $500.00 each, numbered consecutively; and bear interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year, upon coupons attached thereto, in the usual form, and said interest commences on the first day of July, 1910, and the first installment of interest is payable on the first day of January, 1911. Both principal and interest are payable at the office of the county treasurer of said county of La Crosse.

Said bonds are dated July 1, 1910, and are payable at the option of the county board of said county at any time after the expiration of eight years from date thereof and shall become due and mature fifteen years after their date.

At the time and place aforesaid, such sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds will be opened and the issue of bonds awarded to the highest bidder for cash, provided, that no bid which is less than par and accrued interest will be accepted; and the right to reject any and all bids not deemed to be for the interest of the county is expressly reserved. The bonds shall be delivered to the purchaser at the city of La Crosse, Wisconsin.

The said bonds will be sold together in one lot, or separately, as may be deemed most advantageous for said county, according to the bids received. All bids should be endorsed, "Proposals for La Crosse County Insane Asylum Bonds," and addressed to the County Clerk, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Dated, La Crosse, Wisconsin, this 6th day of June, 1910.

R. W. DAVIS,
Chairman of the County Board of La Crosse County.

C. H. RAWLINSON,
County Clerk of La Crosse County.

WILLIAM WEIMAR,
County Treasurer of La Crosse County.

Two Personal, Important Questions—

Have YOU been fair to this great man?

Are YOU reading this fascinating play?

Peary Proves It!

If you have a grain of doubt, if you are not fully informed, if you have supported any other claimant for North Pole honors, if you have become tired of the whole subject, BE FAIR to Commander Peary and read the July installment of "Peary's Own Story" which PROVES HE GOT THERE! You will be thrilled by the narrative—the awful sledge journey—crossing "leads" on ice rafts—Borup's rescue of the dog team—the separation of the ice in the middle of Peary's camp—the hardships, the mental torture, and the magnificent courage of the expedition—and all the rest. And you will be convinced—you will know the truth, which is what you want as a fair and square American.

"Speaking of Widows and Orphans"

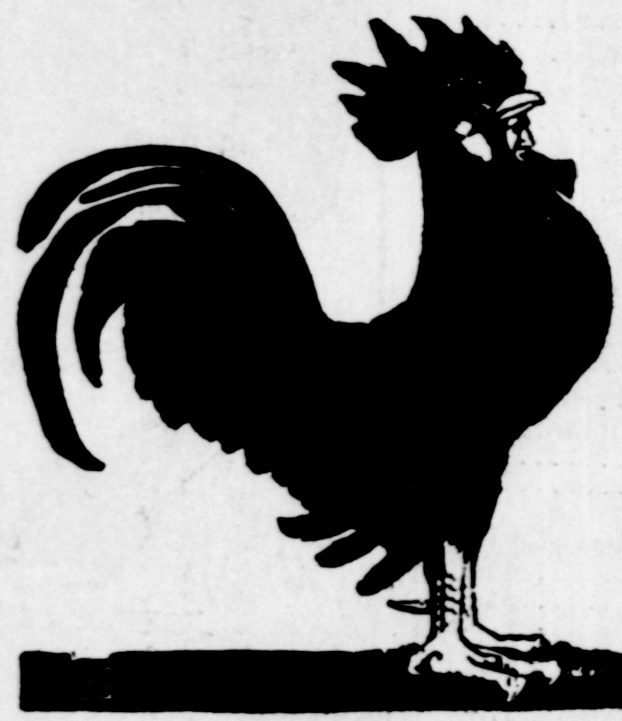

The most dramatic chapter in Charles Edward Russell's series on the Central Pacific Millionaire Mill. It is the story of the settlers who lost their lives in their contest with the railroad power, and contains the pitiful recital on the witness stand of Mrs. Colton, the widow of Huntington's friend, who was robbed of her husband's millions.

"The Speed Kings" For Automobilists

Intimate, personal stories by Edward Lyell Fox about the world's greatest automobile drivers and their flirtations with death. An article that is full of the lure of speed, the glamor of racing, the atmosphere of the road race, the thrilling acts of dare-devil drivers,—side lights on the great automobile contests of the century.

"A Fighting Chance for the City Child"

Every parent—every intelligent man and woman—will have a personal interest in this simple and forceful account by Rheta Childe Dorr of the modern life-savers, the nurses and teachers, who work to give "a fighting chance" to thousands of sickly and defective children,—the future mothers and fathers who have had a false start toward health.

"Chantecler"—In English!

The world is talking about it, the world wants to read it. All America is reading it—your friends, your neighbors, everybody around you, and you can read it in English in "HAMPTON'S" only. This great drama, with its characters of birds and fowls—its brilliant wit—its delightful slang—is the most fascinating piece of writing that has appeared for decades. How human nature is parodied—so kindly yet so truthfully! No work of fiction ever contained a love story like that of "Chantecler" and his hen peasant. For youths, maidens or grown-ups, this wonderful play by Edmond Rostand has intense delight, truest humor, wise counsel, the secrets of life.

GREWSOME TASK OF DIVER MURRAY

Man who Explored Hull of J. S. Tells of Finding Body of Jack Plein Under Deck

SUBMERGED HULL IS SPLIT

Diver Says Hatches were Burned Away, Forever Hiding whether He was Locked In

Charles Murray of East Dubuque, the diver who located the body of John Plein in the hold of the ill-fated steamer J. S., returned home Friday afternoon after having completed his grewsome task. His was a thrilling experience, one of the most thrilling in a career of many years of this kind of work. Whether Plein met his fate while chained in the hold of the boat or whether he was locked in, Mr. Murray can not say, but his explorations in the wreckage of the boat has convinced him that the unfortunate farm hand was in the hold when the fire broke out and that he met a horrible fate.

"In all my experiences I have never had an experience similar to that I encountered in the wreckage of the J. S. Thursday," said Mr. Murray. "The body was in a terrible shape. I found it floating under the boilers in the hold of the boat. It had risen from the bottom of the hold and would have gone to the surface had it not been held down by the roof of the hold. The right foot and the right hand were entirely gone and the body was almost devoid of clothing. There was a little of his shirt on the left arm and a collar and tie. When I came across and touched the body portions of the flesh dropped off and even in the water I could see every rib in the body.

"The body was fast becoming decomposed when I reached it. The men assisting me above the water told me that the stench which rose from beneath was nauseating after I touched the body, causing fragments of flesh to drop. I realized that it would be unwise to attempt to remove the body before the coroner was notified and on the scene as it was in a condition which would prevent it being kept any time after taken from the water unless embalming fluids were speedily used. While the coroner was enroute to the wreck we cut a hole in the floor of the engine room and through this we removed the body later in the day.

"I have dove into the water and located many bodies, but this was the worst experience I ever had. The submerged interior of the boat is a terrible wreck. The hull is split in two and will be useless. The boilers are in good shape and can be saved, but that is all. The rest of the machinery is a mass of twisted and broken iron.

"After we removed the body from the wreck I went back and made a careful search for the chains or handcuffs which it was said Plein wore when he met his fate, but found no evidence of anything of the kind. It is apparent from the position of the body that Plein was in the hold of the boat when the fire broke out, but whether the doors of the hatches were locked will never be known as they were burned away. Plein's fate must have been terrifying beyond description as death could not have been instantaneous.

Mr. Murray has been subpoenaed to appear at the coroner's inquest which will be held next Wednesday.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT

When it is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. Hoeschler Bros., special agents.
